

Wild Colors

International nature photographer Gavriel Jecan has traveled the globe to bring back stunning photographs of wildlife, insects, and plants that illustrate the amazing colors of the natural world. Andrea Helman's informative text offers a factual tidbit about each creature, often explaining how that coloring serves the animal. Helman has a knack for digging up fascinating nature facts that interest both children and adults. In the process of learning to name the colors, this book imparts to children a sense of wonder about the natural world: white polar bears, bright green frogs, red starfish, brown impalas, a black bear, and more.
